

A MORSEL OF COMFORT.

Gen. Longstreet says he has no idea of identifying himself with the Radical party, but goes, as he thinks, good advice in reference to reconstruction. It is not easy for the popular mind to distinguish between the Radical and the man who advocates the Radical programme. Still there may be a material difference, and the latter should have the benefit of the most charitable construction. If the General be, indeed, a Radical, persecution may make him a bitter one; if not a Radical, indiscriminate abuse may make him one, practically, by driving him from his true position. Nothing too harsh can be said of an avowed Radical, of Southern antecedents, but justice and clarity say, wait for the actual.

We are heartily sick of the caption—"Presidential progress," so often repeated during the tours to Boston and North Carolina. What we want is Presidential progress toward the maintenance of the Constitution.

The Petersburg (Va.) Republic is for the re-election of President Johnson. We prefer a man with a backbone, and not trained in the schools of passive obedience to Radical orders.

Drake's interview with Thad. Stevens is having an extensive run. Wonder if Drake put any question to old Thad's "garter" duck.

The President has been urged to arrest Sheridan for insubordination. That is more than he dare to do.

cal that the most cultivated hearers could not help but be pleased.

I will not omit to compliment both gentlemen for the dignity and politeness, with which they treated each other. There was not a word of that rudeness and slang which has become fashionable with public speakers of the present day.

As to the audience, I never witnessed a more orderly and peaceable assembly in all my life. I did not hear a cross or rude word from the time I arrived, which was about one o'clock, A. M., until the speaking ended, and the people left for their homes; and I did not see a drop of liquor during my stay at Palmyra.

CAPTAIN JAMES C. BROWN, an old citizen of Warren county, who commanded a company in the 5th Tennessee (Federal) Cavalry, and has hitherto supported the administration of Gov. Brownlow, writes a letter in which he expresses his views which are clearly stated, from the Brownlow organization. He will vote for Elberdyne.

hence. It is mockery of reason, a violation of plighted faith to do so, as well as cowardice to applaud the want of generosity in a triumphant foe, to be made under unprovoked oppression. Our countrymen, or children of children forget the cruelty of those who violated the rules of honorable warfare, robbed, and in some instances, insulted our helpless women and children. Patiently do our people suffer, but they will not be abused. They will rise again, and "put to shame and confusion by its moral power, the tyrants now oppressing us, submitting to our country's flag, now ours as well as theirs." If you are unwilling to fall on all fitting occasions to defend it, we deny the right of the clique now in power in this State to heap further insults upon the injuries already inflicted. Our women will not, cannot, and will not be protected by the weak and cowardly. Our men are men, applaud them therefore. If Bureau agents and inter-agency office seekers persist in playing this game for office, to the ruinous and degrading extent they now seem determined on, the people will not be deceived. They will demand sooner or later, cost be a virtue. More anon.
